MEMORANDUM FOR: Chief, B2 Division/PO432, NSA

25X1A ATTENTION: [REDACTED]
FROM: Chief, CIA/PID (NPIC)
SUBJECT: Military Installations, Hai-Feng, China
REFERENCE: (a) Requirement [REDACTED]
(b) CIA/PID Project C 174-64

1. This memorandum is in response to your requirement dated 14 January 1964, requesting determination of electronics equipment at the reported electronics installations northeast of Hai-Feng, China (Mission [REDACTED]). In conjunction with this memorandum is suggested that the requests refer to CIA/PID (NPIC) Project C 1798-63, M/EB 24/64, dated 17 January 1964 which deals with NPIC target 0614-56A.

25X1C 2. Photography from [REDACTED] was studied in regard to this requirement. Detailed analysis of the subject area indicates a military installation. Sixty (60) separate areas were observed within the following coordinates 23-01N 115-21E to 23-08N 115-28E. The installation begins three nautical miles northeast of Hai-Feng and extends for approximately ten nautical miles along the southeast edge of a newly formed reservoir.

Of the sixty areas observed forty (40) are believed to be AAA sites. Twenty-five (25) of the AAA sites appeared occupied and fourteen (14) of these occupied sites have fire control radar associated with them. Small scale and obliquity precluded determination of specific antenna types. Five of the sixty areas are believed to be target acquisition radar sites but again no specific antenna types could be identified.

Electronic-type vans are associated with at least seven of the occupied AAA sites. These vans are, in all cases, parked parallel to each other, i.e., in line in military order. No antennas are discernible on or near the vans.

In regard to the association between the barracks/training area east of Hai-Feng (NPIC target 0614-69A) and the military area under discussion (NPIC target 0614-56A), the close proximity of these two installations (two nautical miles) suggests that the barracks area could be a support area for the military training school.
